About

I'm an engineering manager at ForeFlight, where I lead a team and write code for the aviation industry. I live in AWS most days, working on Java services and all the code needed to make those services live.

I worked for a long time at Rhapsody, writing code in C#, TypeScript, and (occasionally) C++ to serve the health care IT industry.

I also spent several years working for Garmin, where I did Windows programming in C++ and Mac development in Objective-C.
