About

I'm a developer on the Google Chrome team, working to make the web platform more awesome.

I work on web specs at the WHATWG, including editing the HTML Standard and Streams Standard. I help improve the JavaScript standard at Ecma TC39, representing Chrome's interest there and proposing some new features for future inclusion. Once upon a time I was elected to the W3C TAG to ponder issues of web architecture.

In my spare time, my hobbyist programming centers around lots of Node.js and web apps. My favorite project is currently jsdom. I also used to present a lot at conferences.
