About

About me:

I am a versatile software engineer. I work in several fields in software including domain driven design, application security, application integration, to name a few.

I spend quite a lot of time reverse engineering and analyzing the Java virtual machine, application servers and open source libraries. When not exploring code, I would typically be reading the specifications of various JSRs, or working on a FLOSS project.
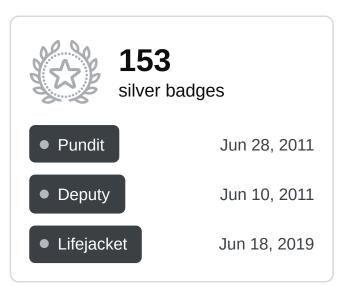

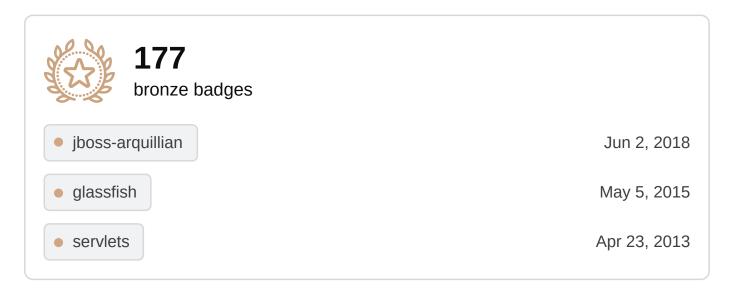

My FOSS contributions

My project repositories are at BitBucket and GitHub.
